IS THERE A LIVING DINOSAUR Natives of Rhodesia Recently Have Described What Seems to Be One of Them.

Somewhere in the north of Rhodesia (if statements of the natives are reliable), a mighty dinosaur lives, moves and has been, rivaling in his proportions and terrifying appearance anything that paleontologists have as yet brought to light.

South African zoologists, it seems, dismissed as beneath their notice the account of this reptile; but the definite statement made on the subject by the Bulawayo Chronicle corroborates Hagenbeck in a remarkable manner.

A representative of that journal has interrogated natives on the spot, and has shown them sketches of the din-osaur, drawn from Hagenbeck's description, which they affirm in a most positive manner is a very close representation of the creature they have seen disappearing himself near a lake near the river Lunga.

Until this living dinosaur came above the zoological horizon it was a fairly well-established fact that the last of the race was gathered to his fathers not more recently than the year 400,000 B. C., and hitherto our only knowledge of the fascinating animal has been based on his fossilized remains.

Sweet Influence.

Is it not entertaining how to make the best of one's powers, how to arrange one's stores, how to exert a sweet, quiet and fragrant influence throughout life, over all whom one meets? If an advanced education does this for one, then it is the education one should seek. Our difficulty is that we cannot allow time enough for seed time and harvest. Mothers are in despair if daughters occasionally drop out of school for six months or a year.
We are much too apt to insist on putting all our children, irrespective of their natural bent, through the same educational factory. We do not make sufficient allowance for temperament and tendency, and thus it comes to pass that some of us carry burdens, beneath the weight of which we are crushed.

Gladstone's Memory.

Gladstone's power of memory was always one of his greatest assets. In his last years he often lamented that it was not what it had been; but even so, it came triumphantly out of some remarkable tests. In his eighty-third year he set himself to recall Manzoni's ode on the death of Napoleon, which, as a young man, he had translated into English. He had entirely forgotten his own version, but by dint of hard "digging" or "fishing up," as he called it, he wrote down 104 of the 108 Italian lines. Two years later he essayed to write from memory a complete list of all the men who had been his cabinet colleagues, and enumerated 60 of the 70.

History Not His Strong Point.
A well-known society young man of Buffalo recently shocked one of his lady friends by his ignorance of history. It was after a dinner party at his house, and she was telling him what she had learned in her private history class. One thing led to another, and all the time he was getting into deeper water. At last she surprised him by inquiring: "Now, tell me, Mr. —, what are the Knights of the Bath?" He stammered for a while, and finally blurted out: "Why, Saturday nights, I suppose."

Cheap and Big Can Baking Powder is Only Big in Size - Not in Satisfaction - Not in Economy

A large can and a small cost does not make baking powder cheap—or even less expensive than Calumet—the high-quality, moderate-price kind. It certainly cannot make it as good. Don't judge baking powder in this way—the real test—the proof of raising power, of evenness, uniformity, wholesomeness and deliciousness will be found only in the baking.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

the Happy Medium

is a better baking powder than you have ever used before. And we will leave it to your good judgment for lighter, more delicious, take it back and get your money.
